Make NATO History! G20 Summit Hits London

On the 3rd and 4th of April in Strasbourg and Baden-Baden a summit meeting of the NATO members is taking place for the occasion of the 60th anniversary of NATO's existence. No less than the very continuance of this military alliance is at stake. Expect broad resistance from the labor unions through to the extra-parliamentary radical left - as well as heavy state repression.

“We Won't Pay For Their Crisis!”

On Thursday 2nd of April the G20 (or G22) are descending on the city in a Summit to address the current global Crisis, and to discuss how to “re-stabilise” the world economy and how to re-write the rules of global Capitalism, whilst thousands of people are losing their jobs and homes on a daily basis.

MEDIA AGAINST THE NATO-SUMMIT

Indymedia linksunten will be closely following the protests and facilitate new information as it's being posted.

During the Actiondays in Freiburg, Baden-Baden, Kehl und Strasbourg their will be an additional Live-Ticker.

The indy deux rives will be released unreguarly and can be found under linksunten.indymedia.org/print. We hope you find a way to print and distribute them.

During the actions their will be also some alternative radio coverage.

Drop-in centres for diy-media-work can be found in the CCs in Freiburg and Strasbourg, on the Camp and in all infopoints.

We shortened the links in the indy deux rives. To read the articles online you have to type linksunten.indymedia.org/node/1861, when we write read more: /node/1861

Amid the biggest police operation to be launched in London for over a decade, many UK wide groups and organisations have joined forces for several days of protests and events starting on Saturday 28th until Thursday 2nd, to show a clear rejection to the G20's ‘solutions’, as well as to propose ways out to the current economic and social situation that go beyond the ‘logic’ of Capitalism.

GUIDE TO THE 2009 ANTI-NATO RESISTANCE

Call for Summer of Resistance 2009

Collapse the security architectures!

Against NATO, G20, G8, Frontex and the "Stockholm Programme"!

Since the end of the last millennium a modification of the "security architecture" within the EU takes place, which have been accelerated by the attacks of 11 September 2001 in the United States. Visible phenomena are for example the entanglement of internal and external security, a "pooling" of prosecution authorities and intelligence services and a simplified data exchange.

At the technical level we are confronted with new digital surveillance cameras, satellite surveillance, biometrics, drones, software for intelligent search in databases and new broadband networks to manage this huge flood of digital data.

New institutions and authorities have been created, including the "European Police Office Europol, the police academy CEPOL, the border agency Frontex and the" Committee for the Management of Operational Cooperation " of all police agencies of the EU within its intelligence operation assessment center.

At the initiative of former French Defense Minister (and current Interior Minister) Michèle Alliot-Marie the "European Gendarmerie Force (EGF) was founded and has been established in 2004. The EGF shall ensure the "public order", combat insurgency, obtain intelligence information and protect property in conflict areas.

The security industry is likely one of the few branches that profits massive from the current crisis of capitalism and the resulting battles.

Europe's police forces are preparing themselves for protest and resistance against the impact of the crisis. Even the chairman of the International Monetary Fund IMF admits that in future more riots are expected.

The institutions of the "leading economic nations" are forced to re-organize themselves. The "summits" of NATO, G8 and G20 are of central importance for this reorganization. Topics such as climate, migration and agriculture are considered as threat to the security of a "western lifestyle".

ACTIONINFOPOINT

Information is the backbone of the pending protests. How do I find what I need for the days to come: food, a place to stay, sanitary facilities, trusting people? What happened so far, whats going on right now? When and how do I get to exactly the action fitting myself? All justified questions. We want to help to find answers to such questions.

There are maps prepared that contain information about the infopoint, the camp and all important phone numbers. You will find the maps at the infopoints, the camp, etc.

Our infopoint is a node in a network. We ask everybody to be part of it. Bring the informations and announcements of your activities to the infopoints. Keep us informed, drop by or call us. Before you call us to tell something, please ask yourself following questions:

WHAT, WHERE, WHEN, HOW, WHO, HOW MANY!

Your report and hundreds of other puzzle parts will make up the picture of the situation.

From April 1st - 5th at the Molodoi (convergence center), 19 Rue Ban de la Roche, Strasbourg

NEWSTICKER

KARLSBAD: Protest against speech of Schäuble, minister of interior

On the 20th of March a pre-election speech-event organised by the CDU Christian Democratic Union took place in a small village of 2000 inhabitants Karlsbad-Auerbach in the southwest Germany, between Karlsruhe and Pforzheim. The main speaker, the Minister of the Interior, Mr. Schäuble held the speech dedicated to the topic „What keeps our society together“. Our activists used this opportunity to protest against the continuous rearmament and curtailing of the basic human rights. read more: /node/1847

(Intelligence service) attempts to recruit activists prior to Strasbourg protests

On Tuesday, the 24th of March, the Verfassungsschutz (a German intelligence service) approached an individual in Ettlingen, near Karlsruhe, in attempt to infiltrate the protest organizations. Contact was immediately broken off by the parents, whereupon the Verfassungsschutz member indicated that he would return at a later time. read more: /node/1846

And Again: In Zell

In Zell am Harmersbach (Ortenau), southwest of Germany the above-named institution tried to recruit 2 new members on the 24.03.2009. It is understood in association to the NATO-Summit, that takes place in few days in this area. read more: /node/1849

And on the 25th another person got asked to work for the intelligence service.

This is what democracy looks like

The police in Freiburg are taking more and more political actions which violate basic democratic principles. On March 14th the Freiburg police announced their intention to escalate efforts against the autonomous political scene in the Badische Zeitung (BZ). Even the regional chapter of Bündnis 90/Die Grünen declared that this reversal of the “formerly de-escalatory 'Freiburg-line'” constituted part of the “recent strategy involving increased hostility towards civil rights.”

After the successful and peaceful KTS demonstration on December 12th 2008 against changes proposed to the rights of assembly, three individuals among the 2,500 demonstrators who were particularly exposed to contact with the police were targeted for repression. In spite of, or possibly due to, the successful and transparent communication between one delegated KTS member and the police this member were subsequently charged with participating in a riot (Gesinnungsparagraf “Landfriedensbruch”).

Both board members of the KTS umbrella organization also received citations accusing them of violations of the rights of assembly. In the BZ Police director Amann contended that KTS' appeal for a demonstration was punishable under law despite the fact that this would not apply according to §§ 23 ff VersG. These actions demonstrate a willingness of the police to engage in politically motivated activities rather than carry out the law.

In addition to the usual goals of rightwingers – the intimidation and profiling left-wing subcultures – the current attacks challenge the well-developed and functioning communication structures between KTS and the city government. The police are thus attempting to sabotage the nationally recognized policy of social pacification between the municipal government of Freiburg and the autonomous scene, also known as the “Freiburg-line.” These actions could have long-term consequences for this relationship.

An immediate cessation of the preliminary proceedings is necessary in order for us to continue our policy of conscious de-escalation. We will be closely following the behavior of the police in the coming weeks before and after the NATO summit in Strasbourg, Kehl and Baden-Baden. Amann has stated that the plans for the Convergence Center against the NATO summit, taking place at the KTS from the 25th through the 31st of March are “not unproblematic.” We consider this to be a defamation of a legitimate protest. In light of these events we call especially for an unregistered demonstration on the 30th of March against militarism and for the right of assembly.
